

True or False?

Drug-facilitated sexual assault happens to people of all ages, but most victims are under 25.

You can tell by how a drink looks if it is safe to drink.

If a person willingly consumed alcohol or other drugs, it's ok to slip them something else without consent.

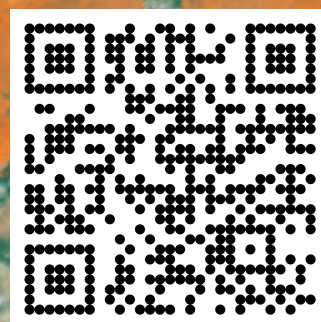

Drink spiking happens to people of all genders.

Incapacitated people can consent to sexual activity.

People who are messed up need a trusted person to get them home safely, not the "help" of a predatory new "friend."
